2022 Call for Participation

We are looking for high-level participants for Deepwater Executive Summit 2022!

The goal of the Deepwater Executive Summit is to facilitate moving the industry forward through shared learnings, best practices, and networking among industry leaders. If you work for an Operator (Major or Independent Oil Company) and are interested in participating in this year's summit, please email Sara.Wilkins@GulfEnergyInfo.

Topics

The Deepwater Executive Summit explores several important topics, such as:

- What types of projects are being approved?
- What are the dynamics driving deepwater costs?
- How do costs for different deepwater basins differ, and how will deepwater continue to attract investment?
- What drives the variance in break-even costs amongst major deepwater Operators?
- How has the deepwater supply chain transitioned in the last three years, and what impact has the transition had on quality and breadth of service?
